WESTON -- Lewis County High School is now a part of The Challenge Program.

The program, which works with schools in Pennsylvania, Delaware, Ohio and West Virginia, provides students the opportunity to receive a check for $250 at the end of the school year.

Students who demonstrate academic excellence and improvement, have good attendance and/or perform community service are eligible to win.

The funds for the program come from local business partners. Weatherford sponsors the program at Lewis County High School and Buckhannon Upshur High School.

Currently, 124 schools participate in the program and the non-profit organization is looking to expand to 20 new schools near Charleston.
