Letter to the editor | Congrats to industries investing in area

By Barbara Miltenberger Jun 18, 2018

Most Americans recognize the importance of industrial production for a strong economy and national defense.

Area leaders realize manufacturing significantly boosts the region’s economic health as can be seen in their continued participation in the annual Showcase for Commerce.

But congratulations go to all involved in “signing day” at Somerset County Technology Center. The Challenge Program Inc., Riggs Industries and the tech center collaborated to solve the problem of a skills shortage in the region by investing in training and education.

Congratulations to Andrew Findley and Russell Persuhn. Here’s hoping your example will inspire others to follow your lead and encourage other manufacturers to invest in the area’s future as well.
